Happy Holidays, Merry Christmas, Happy New Year!

This week is full of holiday fun.

On Tuesday, our morning class had a special visitor come read to us, and sing with us.

On Wednesday, the morning class read "fireside" with a first grade class. In the afternoon, the students read with a "fireside" with a 4th grade class. We love reading with our older elementary friends!

On Thursday, both classes are going to see live music - the elementary student's choir practice!

Each small group activity this week had to do with the story The Mitten by Jan Brett. We measured how long we were with mittens, we wrote and drew about an animal in our mitten, creating a class book for the library! We used popsicle sticks, toothpicks, and playdoh to "build a house for an animal". We discussed and voted on what we wear to school: mittens, gloves, or nothing.

THANK YOU for your continued support and collaboration. We have had a successful first half of the school year because of your support and collaboration. Enjoy some pictures on the next page! New pictures on the class website as well
